

STUART LANCASTER

- 2011 - Present: England Head Coach
- 2008 - 2011: England Saxons Head Coach
- 2008 - 2011: RFU Head of Elite Player Development
- 2006 - 2008: Director of rugby at Leeds Carnegie
- 2001 - 2006: Leeds/RFU Academy Coach

A former back rower, Stuart Lancaster was the first ever player to play more than 100 games for Leeds before taking up a full time role developing the young players at the club.

A level 5 qualified coach, Stuart has been Saxons Head Coach and the RFU's Head of Elite player Development, straddling all of England's age group and development sides, since 2008. During his tenure as England Saxons Head Coach the side won nine out of 10 matches, picking up three Churchill Cups on the way ('08, '10, '11).

Stuart has gained an incredible amount of respect and admiration within the rugby community, being rewarded with the appointment as the Head Coach of the England Elite squad for 2012 6 nations.

D.O.B:
9.10.1969

POSITION:
England Head Coach

Experience:
Q+A